Progress Towards Unity

A LITTLE MORE THAN A YEAR has now elapsed since the war ended, and it is already apparent that the peace which was so eagerly awaited has, up to the present at least, been uneasy. There is still much basis for hope that plans for world co-operation and prolonged peace may be worked out, but there are also indications that much time and patience may be required before these hopes can be realized in every part of the world. It has frequently been observed that the British Commonwealth of Nations might well be taken as an example of what could be accomplished on a world scale in the way of unity among nations, and the close co-operation between Britain, Canada and the United States during the war offered further tangible proof of the practicability of united effort on an international basis.

Canada Continues To Co-operate

At the present time Canada is continuing to co-operate both with Britain and the United States in matters of defence and military science. Because of this country's geographic position, our interests in defence are linked with the United States in matters affecting this hemisphere, and with Britain in respect to Empire defence. It is reported from London that "unobtrusive steps are being taken to assess and improve commonwealth and empire defence organizations and to keep abreast of developments in military science." It is also emphasized, however, that "all discussions of commonwealth defence by United Kingdom officials are prefaced by two statements: first, that they look forward to the United Nations eventually taking over international defence duties; and second, that the commonwealth governments are independent and make their own decisions, London simply being the seat of one of the governments."

A Link Between Great Powers

Hemispheric defence is already under the competent direction of the Canada-United States defence board, of which General MacNaughton is co-chairman. General MacNaughton is also Canada's representative on the United Nations atomic commission. It is clear that Canada, through her close ties with both the British Commonwealth and the United States will continue to carry out the important role she assumed during the war, as a strong link between the two great English-speaking powers. In war, these people showed what tremendous results could be achieved when their efforts and resources were united for a common purpose, and there is a growing opinion in favour of closer co-operation between the British Commonwealth and the United States as the only means of assuring world security and continued peace. Canada has already clearly demonstrated her interest and approval in such co-operation.

Order From McArthur

Statue Of Queen Victoria Must Be Returned To Hong Kong.

The statue of Queen Victoria which General MacArthur has ordered the Japanese to find and restore to its site in Hong Kong will be remembered by elderly Londoners. In the '90s it stood at the corner of Horse Guards avenue on part of some land now covered by the War Office. Royal sculptures were then, as now, controlled by the Office of Works. The Minister responsible for the transfer of the statue to Hong Kong was Mr. Shaw-Lefevre, later Lord Eversley, of the last Gladstone Government.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q—I have heard ration coupons which have been issued to the armed services and temporary farm helpers referred to as "Beaver" coupons and also "Buffalo" coupons. Is there any difference between these coupons?

A—The "Beaver" coupons were the name given to unnumbered ration coupons. After September 30 these coupons are to be replaced by the "Buffalo" coupons. The "Beaver" coupons will be invalidated as of Thursday, October 31, 1946, which covers the purchase of meat, sugar, preserves and butter. The "Beaver" coupons which cover the purchase of evaporated milk expire on December 31, 1946.

Q—When is the Wartime Prices and Trade Board going to terminate the issuing of priority suit certificates to ex-servicemen and women?

A—No priority suit certificates will be issued after October 20. However, those certificates issued prior to October 30 will be honoured until the end of this year by clothing merchants and tailors.

Q—I did not obtain my ration book during the week of distribution. Do I apply at the Local Ration Board for my book?

A—Any person who does not secure their ration books during the distribution period should mail their application card, R181, fully made out and signed, to any Local Ration Board in their vicinity. In this case the card should be detached—the ration book itself should not be mailed and the new book will be forwarded as soon as possible. The application card is found at the back of ration book five.

Q—Are we still supposed to turn in meat tokens and coupons which we do not need for our own use?

A—Every coupon and token turned in means more meat can be shipped overseas to the hungry areas. Turn in all coupons and tokens that can be spared to the Location Ration Board in your district or the registered custodian of an organization.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Judgment Handed Down In Arizona

In manslaughter case. Automobile drivers in general, and reckless drivers in particular, should mark with more than casual interest a judgment handed down recently in Phoenix, Arizona, in a manslaughter case arising out of a traffic accident. The young man who pleaded guilty to responsibility for the death of a young woman who was the mother of two children, was ordered by the judge to turn over each payday "not less than ten per cent. of his earnings" for support of the two children until they reach the age of 21. One of the children is four years old, one is only three months—Montreal Gazette.

BEING MICROFILMED

National Registration Card Record Will Take Up Small Space

National registration, which proved itself useful in wartime emergency and wedged itself firmly into Canadian life during its six years of existence, already is well on its way to being completely dismantled.

Since it joined other outmoded war restrictions on the discard pile last Aug. 15, the staff in charge of the records, once numbering about 300, has been cut to half.

Now the 9,250,000 registration cards will be microfilmed, and the original records, taking up more than 30,000 square feet of office space in one of Ottawa's temporary buildings, will be destroyed. The present staff then will be reduced to a custodian staff of about 10.

And that's that. You may find it handy for identification purposes, but you can throw away that national registration certificate without the slightest fear of recrimination. Its official value is nil.

Handled Job Well

Scottish War Bride Was Britain's First Woman Bus Driver

What's in a man's job anyway? Mrs. William Reeve, a Scottish war bride who recently joined her husband in Guelph, Ont., says that during the war she was the first woman bus driver in the British Isles, was also a guard for German prisoners and has been a police-woman in Glasgow.

She drove her father's trucks at 14, attended an engineering school for three years and then turned police-woman in her home city. Came the war she took a man-sized job—driving trucks for the Glasgow Transportation Corporation. Later she drove a ration truck for the British Ministry of Food and for two years was in sole charge of transporting 50 German prisoners of war.

About Canada she said "it is a swell country, except for the wee buses."

Janitors Have An Easy Way To Wash Painted Walls

Stop! Don't wash that wall from the top down. Wash it from the bottom up. And when you finish, starch it so it'll be easier to clean next time.

That's what the men said. They were janitors from 13 states who took a course at Columbia University to learn that cleaning is a science, not a chore.

It's like this, they theorized: When you tackle wall from the top down, some of the dirty solution dribbles on the soiled wall below, leaving a streak even after the wall is cleaned. But if you start at the bottom and some of the solution runs down the wall, it's easy to rinse off and won't stain.

For a slick finish, boil ordinary starch in water for 20 minutes, then cool. Thin the jelly-like substance with water to cream consistency. Applied with a wide brush, it dries to an invisible film, starch (instead of paint) comes off with the dirt—Pathfinder.

Family Has Held Office Of King's Champion Since 1377

The holder of that picturesque medieval office known as the "King's Champion" has just died in the United Kingdom. His was the duty in the age of chivalry of riding into Westminster Hall on horseback and in armor to throw down before the coronation banqueters, his knight's gauntlet with the demand that if anyone present challenged the new king's right to the throne, he should come out and fight. The last time, however, the custom was observed was at the coronation of Queen Victoria's predecessor, King William the Fourth. The title of King's Champion has been hereditary in the Dymoke family since 1377.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY— FENCED STRAW

By M. J. COLLINS

Copyright
Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

BILL TAYLOR liked the big city paper, even if it did come out a day late for its rural subscribers. It had lots of funnies, and he got a kick out of them.

Hardly had he settled in his rickety chair on the verandah when Mary, his wife, bustled out with her sewing basket and sat in the other easy chair. By her very attitude he knew that she had something on her mind.

"Do you know that Olivia went out with that Clay Malton?" Mary said several minutes later and, preoccupied as he was with the funnies, Bill noticed the emphasis on "that."

Putting his newspaper down he peered over his glasses at his wife. "What's wrong with that?" he asked mildly. "Clay's bin around a mite, I'll admit, but I guess he's all right. I know you would rather see her go out with young Carson. He's a good lad."

"I want you to have a talk with the young lady when she comes from tonight," Mary said firmly. "Forbid her to go out with Clay Malton."

"Can't you well do that?" Mary implored to her feet. "Don't sit there, Bill Taylor, and tell me you're afraid to tell your daughter what to do. All you think about is your prize cows! Your family don't mean a thing to you. Sometimes I wonder why I ever married a farmer. You do it!" She slammed the screen door.

When Olivia came home Bill was in the kitchen having a snack. "Why, father?" she exclaimed. "What are you doing up at this hour?"

"One of the cows was sort of sick so I was keeping an eye on her. Want anything to eat?" Olivia shook her head.

"Have a good time?" Instantly she was on the defensive and he knew Mary had been nagging her about going out with Clay Malton.

"Very nice."

"I'm glad you did. Clay is quite a guy, fellow, tears around with all the girls and has fun. Probably won't ever settle down. We don't want you to settle down yet, you're much too young. That Carson chap is the steady, serious type—although he seems to be fun, too—but too much the settling down type for you. Might as well turn around in a few years longer." He stopped further comment by biting into his sandwich.

"You're a dear, Dad," she cried, throwing her arms around him. "I do love you."

"Now you hustle off to bed," he chided. "Remember 'that beauty sleep'."

He sat there chuckling. There was only one more detail to be attended to. Next evening an angry young Jack Carson drove over. Olivia was waiting, perplexed, for he had phoned and said he had something to discuss. Bill had scowled openly at him but had said nothing.

The next day Olivia didn't mention what he had had to say but Jack came over again. Bill blocked his entrance at the verandah steps. "Mr. Carson," he said, "I strongly object to your going out with my daughter."

"Olivia doesn't, and that settles that," Jack answered belligerently. Bill retired to his rocker and his funnies.

When they had gone, Mary bounced out. "I heard you, Bill Taylor! Have you gone out of your mind?" she demanded. "You know he's a nice, young man."

"Now don't get ruffled. Remember that stack of buckshot straw in the back field? The cattle wouldn't eat it. I put a fence around it and they knocked it down, so they could eat the straw. I kept putting it up and they kept knocking it down, first thing I knew, the stack was gone."

"What in the world are you talking about?"

"Well, people like what's over the fence, so I did a little fence building. I told Olivia Clay was all right and I went over and told Jack to stop pestering my daughter, so now they've already broken the first fence. Bet they're engaged before the end of the month."

"Huh!" Mary snorted. "Sometimes you make me wonder."

But he was wrong—the end of the month they were married.

THE ONLY WAY

A horse was led into a house in York road, Northampton, through the kitchen and out by the back garden. That was the only way to get it back on the road again after it fell into the basement area of the house; it could not climb up the steps. The horse, on a milk round, had bolted with the cart. The cart broke in two. Only two bottles of milk were spilled. And they were not on the car. They were standing in front of the house.

BRASS SHORTAGE

Many Employees Released From Work Owing To Scarcity

MONTREAL.—Canadian Industries Limited in a statement said that, owing to a serious shortage of brass and copper strip, it had been found necessary to curtail operations at the company's ammunition works in Brownsburgh, Que.

Approximately 275 employees of the CIL "Dominion" ammunition division plant will have to be released from employment as a result of this curtailment, the statement said.

The company said that earlier this year it appeared likely that major demands might be met by the end of 1946 and that at the end of July shipments totalled approximately a normal year's supply. However, during May, supplies of brass and copper strip essential to the manufacture of ammunition had ceased entirely, owing to a prolonged strike at the Toronto works of a supplier. As a result, production had declined at a time of depleted inventories.

"Caused by a wartime drop in sporting ammunition manufacture, the present shortage has been aggravated by low dealer and jobber stocks throughout the country," the CIL statement added.

The Following Recipe At This Season Is A Very Good One

"Be careful in your selection, do not choose too young, and take only such as have been reared in a good moral atmosphere. When you have decided upon and selected, let that part remain forever settled and give your entire thought to preparation for domestic use.

"Some insist on keeping them in a pickle, while others are continually getting them into hot water. This only makes them sour, hard and sometimes bitter.

"Even poor varieties may be made sweet, good and tender by garnishing with patience, well sweetened with smiles and flavored with kisses to taste; then wrap them in a mantle of charity, keep warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion, and serve with peaches and cream. When thus prepared they will keep for years."

The List That Shows Who and Where

If you are an EATON customer there is a stencil of your name and address at EATON'S Mail Order in Winnipeg. Your stencil, with hundreds of thousands of others, makes up the mailing list. Space is a problem, but the hard job is keeping this list up to date. It would be easy if people just remained the same; but they grow up, marry, die and about 7,000 of them move to new addresses every month. To keep track of all these changes requires the time of a large staff. YOU can help, too, by notifying us of any change of address. All this work is done so that EATON'S customers receive EATON'S Catalogue regularly.

Everybody's busy these days, getting in the garden stuff before Jack Frost takes hold of things. Surely the prize potato grew in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larson. This "spud of spuds" was on exhibition in the Irma Co-op last week. It was a large white tuber, weighing nearly 3 pounds.

Miss Audrey Clelland has gone to Killam, Alta., where she has accepted a position as accountant.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeTro and son Carmen have left for Edmonton where Mr. DeTro will resume his studies at the University of Alberta.

Mr. D. H. Gunn has been ill for several days this week and unable to take his place in the High school.

Mrs. J. C. McLean of Irma, W.I. District Director of District No. 2, paid her official visit to Wainwright recently. Mrs. McLean addressed a W.I. meeting there. She told the story of the birth of the W.I. in Alberta, the hardships of those pioneer days and what a help the W.I. was to the farmers' wives in rural districts. How the movement had grown and the wonderful work that has been done through the war years by all the Branches.

Mr. Bill Sayer is a patient in the Wainwright hospital.

Miss Marion Coffin of Delia, Alta., was a visitor in Irma last week-end.

We are sorry to report Miss Alice Flewelling on the sick list this week.

On Saturday last, Mr. Carl Larson received news of the death of his brother. Mr. and Mrs. Larson left early this week for Red Deer where the funeral will be held.

We hope shortly to have a High school column in the Times. The Student's Union held their annual election of officers yesterday, with the following officers elected:

 Sec.-Treas.—Ina Currie.
 Girls Sport Director—Nancy Shapka.
 Boys Sport Director—Don Ramsay.

Editor of the school paper—Vera Mikkleson.

High School correspondent for the Irma Times—Don Simmermon. This sounds very interesting to us.

Mr. Earl Fuder is a visitor in Irma this week.

Mr. George Blakely of Victoria has returned to Irma for the harvest season and has been visiting with friends and relatives here.

The Irma Red Cross would be very grateful to anyone able to donate some stove wood to be left at the Legion hall for the use of the ladies who gather there to sew each Tues. afternoon.

Ross McFarland had a visit last week-end from his college pal, Jim Henderson of Black Diamond.

ELECTRICAL POWER IS DEPENDABLE

BEHIND the switch that brings you instant fingertip service lies the constant vigilance of many men. Through the dark hours of the night, when you and your neighbors sleep, their unceasing watch goes on. In summer cloudburst and wintry blizzard discomfort and oftentimes danger are their lot, but in the safeguarding of those slim wires traversing the countryside to your house and the house next door and the thousands of homes beyond that, lies their duty.

To them there is no such thing as service beyond the call of duty, for they know only the importance of uninterrupted electricity. They know that necessity is heedless of time and that emergencies may come at any hour. They know that when sickness strikes at night light is the first demand. Light that is gained at the flick of a fingertip with no thought that it might not be there.

That is your tribute of which they are so proud . . . you took it for granted. That is the way they want you to continue to feel, that ELECTRICAL POWER IS DEPENDABLE.

ASK FOR FACT-FINDING BOARD

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool held in Calgary on Tuesday September 17, it was decided to send the following telegram to Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King.

"The board of directors of Alberta Wheat Pool earnestly urge your government to take early action to appoint a fact-finding board representative of the various interests involved to determine prices for agricultural products which will give to the farmers of Canada their fair share of the national income."

As required by the Income War Tax Act, this will advise our customers, as referred to in the said Act, as amended, that in accordance with the terms and conditions and within the times and limitations contained in the said Act, as amended, it is our intention to pay a dividend in proportion to the 1947 patronage out of the revenues of the 1947 taxation year, or out of such other funds as may be permitted by the said Act, and we hereby hold out the prospect of the payment of a patronage dividend to you accordingly.

NATIONAL GRAIN COMPANY LTD.

Looking Ahead

The prospects at the present time are that there will be a lot more farm machinery available for next year than there has been in the recent past. As we are obliged to submit our estimate to the company of the machinery we expect to need for 1947, we invite you to place your orders now, whether it be for a tractor, combine, threshing machine, plow, mower, delivery rake, hay loader, cultivator, milking machine, cream separator or anything in the implement line. 1947 is the Massey-Harris 100th anniversary and never in their history have they had such a splendid line of machines, machinery that has been tried and tested before being offered to the farmer. The M.H. combine leads the field, their tractors are noted for their power and economy, their one-way discs are a favorite of the farmers and now the new ones with the rotor lift is away ahead of anything in the tiller line. Their grain grinder has features not to be found in any other grinder such as the spring worm feed which won't allow the plates to overload regardless of how wide the hopper slides are open, also with full protection against nails, etc. Come in and let us show you the features which are exclusive to the Massey-Harris. No other grinder has them. Let's make 1947 a Massey-Harris year.

Yours for service
